From the Editor

Another successful year for Branch 12 comes to a close with this issue of Ham Hum so I thought I'd do a summary in time for our annual BBQ on 6th December.

The AGM of members in February was successful with all positions filled quickly.

The Jock White contest was well supported and lots of fun. The trying conditions on 40m affected everyone, however we still came in 4th in the Open Class with 690 QSO's and 199,125 points. An overall improvement from last year.

We then settled in to monthly meetings with guest speakers and social time. Lots of interesting topics and much to learn about.

In amongst that we had several AREC events and training sessions/ meetings that were well attended and showed the public how professional and competent we all are.

The V8 Supercars came to town and a fence appeared between the clubrooms and our tower. I must thank those who worked with the City and the V8 organisers to make sure we remained fully functional as an AREC Section and as a club during that time. Oh, and the free tickets were very nice.

NZART Conference came along with our representatives Tony (ZL1UD) and Jono (ZL1UPJ) making the trip down to Dunedin.

Class of 2008 was started with our dedicated team of trainers and an equally dedicated team of students. Wonderful results all round and the classes are continuing as our new Hams continue to learn more about the hobby.

The annual Market Day in August was another success with special thanks to Dave (ZL1TCE), Jono (ZL1UPJ) and Brett (ZL1TFA) for all their hard work.

And those are just the highlights.....see you at the BBQ or in the coming year. - Editor

Next Committee Meetings -3rd Dec 2008 and 21st January 2009

SB PROP ARL ARLP049 ARLP049 Propagation de K7RA

We had our last glimpse of sunspot group 1008 as it was about to slip over our sun's western horizon on November 18. No sunspots have emerged since then, but it seems a reasonable assumption that we will see more cycle 24 spots, but we do not know when. There is a prediction from USAF/NOAA that shows solar flux rising to 70 on December 8-9, and perhaps this is just tracking a possible reappearance of the region that birthed sunspot group 1007, which we saw in the sun's southern hemisphere from October 30 through November 6.

Tonight high latitude regions may see some aurora, caused by another solar wind stream from a coronal hole. But that same USAF/NOAA forecast mentioned earlier shows a planetary A index of just 12 for today, dropping to 8 on Thursday, then 5 (a very quiet level) until December 4-6, when they expect a planetary A index of 8, 15 and 10. The planetary A index is calculated with data from a collection of midlatitude and higher magnetometers around the world, and 12 is a drop from Tuesday's (November 25) planetary A index of 17, when aurora was observed in Polar Regions.

Recently geomagnetic conditions have been very, very quiet, as mentioned in the last bulletin. At http://www.swpc.noaa.gov/ftpdir/indices/DGD.txt

note the abundance of zeroes for both A and K index for two weeks through November 24, with the exception of November 16.

Milan Cerny, OK3AA of the Czech Republic is QSL manager for Josef Archman, ET3JA in Addis Ababa Ethiopia. Milan says that Josef is on 20 meters PSK sporadically from 0600-1600z. With no sunspots, stations in the Northeast United States and Southeast Canada should have a good shot during the last couple of hours in that period on 20 meters.

Australian and New Zealand stations my find a workable path with stronger signals into Australia starting around 1200z and New Zealand an hour later. Stations in and around India should see excellent signals until 1200z. Milan should see excellent conditions over the whole 0600-1600z period, with strongest signals at the beginning and end of that period. Weakest signals should be around 0800-1100z.

In the last bulletin ARLP048 we mentioned Jim Borowski's (K9TF of West Allis, Wisconsin) request for information on propagation prediction software for the Apple Macintosh.

David Olsen, VK4FOLO (not a typographical error) suggested DX Toolbox (http://www.blackcatsystems.com/software/dxtoolbox.html) from Black Cat Systems, which works with both Mac and PC. If you click on the screenshots link at the bottom of the page, you can see some of the prediction screens, including the maps that show propagation conditions in all directions from your location, varying by the hour. It isn't free software, but you can download a trial version.

David also has his own web site devoted to his ham station at http://www.djolsen.com/ham/vk4folo.html, and if you back up on that URL to delete everything to the right of .com, you can see what else David does in the Australian Outback.

Hamilton AREC Section News

What a weird month. There has not been a lot going on in the AREC world, but the Hamilton Section is growing, something I wanted to see happen since becoming S/L during 2007.

I have been hassling the AREC hierarchy in Auckland to get a training course in Hamilton. Everyone has been busy and there has been no chance this year. Hopefully we will see something in 2009.

Some of our new members cut their teeth on the Bridge to Bridge this year and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The Bridge to Bridge was successful and the organisers were very pleased with the job we did.

I ended up in Hospital on November 21. My heart was playing silly buggers and beating itself silly. I write this from Hospital, and I am looking at another few days before they let me loose on the community again.

Our next major event is Kona on March 14 next year. Operators are sort of all sorted out for the event. If you are interested in going as a helper, speak to one of the Primary Operators and see if you can go with them.

Well, that's it for this issue and for 2008. On behalf of the Hamilton Management Team; ZL1PK, ZL1TCE and ZL1UPJ, I wish all of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. See you at the Club BBQ on the 6th.
